Malan Announces Teachers for City Schools; Changes May Be Made in Some Assignments

The teaching assignments for the Harrisburg City schools were announced today by Russell Malan, superintendent of schools.

The list is generally complete, but in some instances changes may be made in assignments as the teaching load is established, and as the move into the new Junior High building is made.

Only the shop at the new addition will be occupied, and it is not completely furnished. Old work benches and some outmoded equipment has not arrived.

The shop was the only room in the old Junior High building completely abandoned, as it has been remodeled into a storage room and office of W. A. Plumlee, stock custodian and school treasurer. All other rooms will be occupied as in previous years in the old building.

Several of the other rooms are practically ready, and occupancy by various Junior High classes will be from time to time within the next few weeks.

Fred Wasson

Fred Wasson, Carrier Mills merchant, will leave Thursday for Miami, Fla., from where he will fly Pan-American Airline to South America for a "Brotherhood Tour." This tour is sponsored by the Southern Baptist Brotherhood association.

Mr. Wasson and seven other laymen from the South have volunteered to make this journey for the purpose of inspiring Baptist support to the mission work carried on in South American countries. J. Homer Perdue from Memphis, Tenn., will be Mr. Wasson's traveling companion.

The men will be equipped with Bibles, notebooks, and cameras to gather information, and upon their return to the United States around October 1 will travel in the South giving talks on the conditions in South America, what is being done and how the missionaries are going about doing it.

They will visit eight countries, the first stop being Quito, Ecuador. Other countries are Lima, Peru; San Diego, Concepcion and Temuco in the extreme southern part of Chile; and across the continent to Buenos Aires, Argentina; San Juan and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Mr. Wasson is chairman of the Saline Baptist Mission Board and is also president of the Saline Baptist Association Brotherhood. For over 30 years he has been a member of the state executive committee, and has been active in brotherhood work in Illinois for the past 14 years.

Watkins Says Qualifications Not His Concern

Wisconsin Senator Has Demanded to Know Views of Sen. Johnson

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) told Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today that he has no right to challenge the qualifications of any member of the Senate censure committee.

McCarthy had told members of the group which is studying charges against him that it was "absolutely necessary" for him to know whether one of them, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), holds anti-McCarthy views.

But Watkins told the Wisconsin Republican that it is the committee's unanimous judgment that McCarthy may not challenge its members. He added, "the committee is satisfied Sen. Johnson can do just what he said he can do—try this matter and do it fairly."

Before the start of the second public session of the hearing on censure charges against McCarthy, the accused senator circulated a memorandum among committee members demanding that they "direct" Johnson to state whether he was correctly quoted last March 12 by the Denver Post.

The Post quotes Johnson as saying, "Sen. McCarthy is a 'leather' McCarthy. Johnson is issued a statement Tuesday asserting that he never said at any time that he personally loathes McCarthy. He added that he could serve on the committee 'without prejudice.'"

But McCarthy was not satisfied. In demanding that the committee find out if Johnson was correctly quoted by the Denver paper, McCarthy said that if he was, he should be asked "whether he still holds these views."

McCarthy's attorney, Edward B. Williams, indicated that McCarthy may want to challenge the Coloradoan's qualifications to sit as one of the "jury."

But Watkins said McCarthy has no right to do that.

Williams, in the memorandum, quoted Johnson as having said at a closed meeting of the censure committee Monday that the Denver Post dispatch as quoted was "partially true at that time."

"Certainly in a judicial proceeding the defendant is entitled to challenge the qualifications of a judge who has expressed his opinion on the very issues involved in advance of the hearing on the matter before him," Williams contended.

Watkins said it would be "presumptuous" for the committee to attempt to pass on the qualifications of its members.

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Leo O. Goblen, 61, Kilbourne, was fatally injured Tuesday when a falling tree struck him as he was working on a farm removing trees.

United Miners' Welfare Fund Pulls Out of Red

WASHINGTON (AP)—The multi-million-dollar welfare fund of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers pulled out of the red this year even though there was a sharp drop in soft coal production which finances it.

The fund took in 1 1/2 million dollars more than it spent during fiscal year 1954, compared to fiscal 1953 when it spent 7 1/2 million more than it received.

The fund's financial statement, released Tuesday night, showed income of $134,847,779 and expenditures of $133,307,466 during the year ended June 30. The excess income raised the fund reserves to $93,565,044.

The plus sign on the fund's books was achieved by a six-million-dollar belt-tightening in benefits paid to soft coal miners and their dependents.

It also was due to a three-million-dollar increase in total royalties from production despite the fact that overall production fell off.

Fiscal 1954 was the first full year of the 40-cent-per-ton royalty for the fund. In the first four months of fiscal 1953, royalty payments were 30 cents a ton.

Churchill Calls Cabinet To Discuss Fall of EDC

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill interrupted his rest in the country today for an emergency Cabinet meeting on the collapse of the European Defense Community.

As Churchill returned to his official residence at No. 10 Downing Street, authoritative diplomatic sources warned that the French action in killing EDC would set back Western defense another year or more.

Legion Seeks to Eliminate Bad Comic Books

Resolution Says Some Exploit Sadism, Lewdness, Outlawry

By DAYTON MOORE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion today urged comic book publishers to police their own industry in an effort to eliminate a small percentage of its publications filled with "poisonous filth."

A resolution adopted by the 36th annual Legion convention said some so-called comic books "exploit lewdness, sadism, horror and unbridled lawlessness." It emphasized, however, that only a small percentage of the industry's output dwells upon such filth.

Another major resolution awaiting the Legion convention's approval today called for congressional enactment of a universal military training program as the Legion's No. 1 legislative proposal for next year.

Other resolutions adopted by the Legion:

Recommended that the Social Security Law be amended to give orphans of World War II and Korean War veterans educational and training benefits until their training is completed or until they become 21. At present benefits end when the children become 18.

Urged the Senate to set up a veterans affairs committee such as the House already has.

Opposed granting veterans benefits to members of the Merchant Marine, American Field Service, Civil Air Patrol, American Red Cross, Office of Strategic Services and other non-military or semi-military groups.

Adduci Ruled Out, Maps Way to Get in Lower House

Electoral Board Rules Nomination Invalid Because One Who Named Him Not Qualified

By TOM NELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Former State Rep. James J. Adduci today mapped strategy to upset a decision not to certify him for return to the Illinois House seat he held for 18 years.

The State Electoral Board Tuesday held unanimously that the nomination of the Chicago Republican for a spot on the Nov. 2 ballot was invalid because one of the men who nominated him was unqualified.

Gov. William G. Stratton and four other GOP state officers who sit on the board thus upheld objections to Adduci's candidacy which were raised by Edward F.

Moore, Cook county Republican chairman.

Moore contended that James Bernardi, one of the two senatorial committeemen who signed papers to nominate Adduci for a vacancy on the ballot, wasn't qualified because he lived outside Adduci's district.

Adduci's lawyer, Joseph Bulger, told reporters afterward they were considering taking one of two steps to reverse the board:

1. Await reorganization of the senatorial committee which tried to nominate Adduci, and its second selection of a candidate.

2. Ask the Illinois Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus forcing the board to place Adduci's name on the ballot.

Shawneetown Youth Killed in Truck Mishap

James Stanley, 19, Victim; Vehicle Turned Over in Loose Gravel

James Stanley, 19-year-old youth who lived with his mother at Shawneetown, was killed last night when the truck on which he was riding overturned near Junction.

State Policeman Michael Taggart of Ridgway, who investigated, said the truck was driven by Ronald Fields, 16, also of Shawneetown.

Officer Taggart said Fields was driving the truck, a two-ton vehicle, on a gravel road a mile northeast of Junction when it hit some loose sand and overturned around 8:30 p. m.

Two youths were riding in the cab with young Fields and young Stanley and three other boys were in the back of the open truck when it overturned, Taggart stated. All four in the back of the truck were thrown off when the vehicle overturned and the truck rolled over onto Stanley. Death apparently was instant, Taggart said.

None of the others was hurt except Glendall Shell, whose back was wrenched, it was reported. Young Stanley's body was moved to the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown.

Coroner A. C. Cox of Ridgway made his investigation last night and announced that the inquest into the Stanley death will be held at 7 p. m. Thursday at the Gallatin county court house at Shawneetown.

The truck, which was not damaged extensively, belongs to the Shawneetown Lumber Co., of which young Fields' father, Grade Fields, is manager.

Senator Maybank Dies Suddenly Of Heart Attack

FLAT ROCK, N. C. (AP)—Sen. Burnet R. Maybank (D-S.C.) died early today of a heart attack after he had retired for the night at his summer home here with no apparent illness. He was 55.

His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Burnet R. Maybank Jr., said his death was unexpected and that even members of his family did not know he had a heart ailment. She said it was the first heart attack he had ever suffered.

Maybank was the fourth senator to die in office this year and the seventh during the 83rd Congress. But his death is not expected to change the makeup of the Senate since another Democrat is almost certain to be named to fill his seat.

The Democrats declared that McCarthy "fully acquiesced in and condoned" Cohn's efforts on behalf of Schine even though the young New York attorney had "misused and abused the powers of his office and brought discredit to the investigating subcommittee."

"For these inexcusable actions," they said, "Senator McCarthy and Mr. Cohn merit severe criticism."

The Democrats said Stevens demonstrated an "inexcusable indecisiveness and lack of sound administrative judgment." Army Counselor John G. Adams, they said, merited the same for his "policy of appeasement," his "demonstrated weakness," and his "lack of propriety." But, like the Republicans, they cleared the Army of coddling Communists.

It was a loud hint that Stevens should be eased out of the subcommittee.

Lathan, Who Fled Vienna Jail, Still at Large

Indicted on Charge Of Murdering Aged Woman, Mrs. Gray

VIENNA, Ill. (AP)—Thomas L. Lathan, 31-year-old Vienna Negro accused of the murder of Mrs. Maggie Gray, 82, was at large today after escaping from the Johnson County jail here.

Lathan, who was indicted by a grand jury Aug. 16 on five counts, escaped from a cell on the second floor of the jail about noon Tuesday. Authorities had not determined how he got out of the cell to walk downstairs and out the front door of the jail.

Lathan was brought here Tuesday from the Williamson County jail in Marion where he had been kept since his arrest because feeling ran high against him here. He was to have conferred with his attorney Tuesday regarding a plea in Circuit Court.

Lathan is accused of the fatal beating of Mrs. Gray in her home here Aug. 2 during a break-in when Mrs. Gray's 18-year-old granddaughter also was beaten. Lathan also was indicted along with Ardel Johnson, Vienna, for assault with intent to murder, assault with intent to rape, burglary with intent to murder and burglary with intent to rape.

Herbert Lathan, Vienna, was indicted for burglary and Frank Murrell, Vienna, was indicted for and later pleaded guilty to being an accessory after the fact in the break-in.

Report Dien Bien Phu Hero, Gen. De Castries, To Be Freed Thursday

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Returning French prisoners of the Communists said today that Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, hero of Dien Bien Phu, will walk to freedom Thursday.

The repatriated prisoners said they saw De Castries at a detention camp near the exchange town of Vietri in northern Viet Nam.

A political commissar at Vietri told them De Castries' release would be accompanied by "important manifestations of friendship between the French and the Viet Minh (Communist Indochinese)."

De Castries was captured on May 5, the day that Dien Bien Phu fell to the Communists, after calling artillery fire on his own command post as hordes of Red Indo-Chinese swarmed in.

Hundreds of Millions Dollars Damage Is Done

Farm Crop All But Wrecked Along New England Path

By ROBERT SHEERAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
BOSTON (AP)—At least 48 persons were known dead and property damage mounted to nearly 300 million dollars today in the wake of hurricane Carol's 12-hour rampage along the heavily populated Northeastern Seaboard.

As the week-old storm blew itself out in eastern Canada, hurricane hunters investigated a new tropical disturbance east of Florida which may develop into the season's fourth hurricane.

The new storm was moving northwest at 25 miles per hour, with winds up to 50 miles per hour, at a point about 750 miles east of Miami, Fla.

Emergency power crews from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York were rushed into New England to help restore electric service to an estimated three million persons.

Governors Mobilize Guard

Governors in all New England states mobilized National Guard, state and local police and civil defense workers to aid in the gigantic job of clearing highways and protecting damaged property from looters.

Disaster headquarters were set up in scores of communities to feed and shelter the homeless and to track down missing persons.

Gov. Dennis J. Roberts declared a state of emergency in Rhode Island, smallest and hardest-hit of the nine states whipped by the hurricane.

200,000 Telephones Out

Major communication disruptions were reported with nearly 200,000 telephones knocked out of service from New York to Maine.

The death toll included Rhode Island 17, Massachusetts 16, Maine and New Hampshire 3 each, Vermont and Connecticut 1 each, New Jersey 2 and New York state 5.

Thousands of injuries were reported, especially along the coastline where gusts of up to 125 miles per hour were accompanied by 20-foot tides.

Widespread Power Failures

Complete power failures were reported in Providence and New Bedford, R. I.; New Bedford, Mass.; New London, Conn., and scores of smaller communities.

At one time, a third of Boston was without electricity. The Red Cross set up 13 emergency shelters in New England and provided shelter for 2,000 persons.

The storm all but wrecked the 1954 farm crop along the New England coastline. The Massachusetts Agriculture Department said the damage to the apple and vegetable crops alone would total 2 1/2 million dollars. The department estimated that between 15 and 25 per cent of the apple crop was destroyed and 15 per cent of New England's tobacco crop was ruined.

Hundreds of small boats from Long Island to Maine were tossed against rocks by the hurricane-whipped waves. In the Portland, Maine, area damage to small shipping was estimated at $250,000.

Estimate 390 to Die In Labor Day Traffic

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that 390 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the Labor Day week-end.

On the basis of past records and if statistical probabilities hold true, this would mean about 12,600 persons will be injured. Ordinarily, the Council said, there are about 35 injuries for every fatality.

The Council's estimate covers the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—The City Council Tuesday night approved a sale of $950,000 in bonds to finance construction of a second water main to Lake Bloomington.

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being Johnnie Ray.)

By JOHNNIE RAY
JOHNNIE RAY SAYS: Let's Move The Capital To Hollywood; Politics Is Show Business At Its Height; More Harmony Needed Along The Potomac.

I'm sure that when some Washington cats give the cyclone to the byline over this mess of words, they're gonna figure for sure it's a new congressman from the Midwest who got into office during an off-beat election. But since I'm only interested in a downbeat election, they'd be wronger than a clock with 13 on it. And, man, they'll find out how wrong as they read on.

The only thing I know about politics is what I hear at hearings. But what American kid hasn't pictured himself in the nation's capital on a merry-go-round that spins to a different tune every minute? Boy, what a ride! It's show business at its height and after years of dealing with agency politics I think I'd like a taste of the D. C. type.

I got to wondering about some of the possibilities as I spent several months on the set of the 20th-Fox production of "No Business Like Show Business" with the hostess with the mostes, Ethel, the Merm. What's politics without the moo, the kind of folding money Perle Mesta has accumulated? The champagne talk mixed with campaign talk at the bars at her parties but it didn't mean a thing until it got the swing of the 52 bars of Irving Berlin tunes.

That's when everyone saw her on the screen and called her Mes-ta, and even the Republicans figured it was the best thing that ever happened to Washington. Yep, we need more harmony along the Potomac, Mac.

Take another little gal in "No Business Like Show Business."
Don't really try to take her, Jack, because Joe Di Mag may have something to say about it. I'm talking about the best curve pitcher of our generation, Miss Marilyn Monroe. Now if you dig old jokes you must know that if MAR ever tried to get a bill passed in Congress no fuddy dud could resist her motions before the House. Put Marilyn in Congress and I guarantee you that the entire next session would be spent investigating her.

The gab these days is about production. What a bet they're missing in Washington by not bringing in Darryl Zanuck. This gate is one of the best producers of all time. He'd be perfect in Washington. When cuts have to be made Mr. Z could put more excesses on the cutting room floor than 62 economy experts.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD
IN SWING TIME

Last time I visited Washington I tried to catch up on my reading and started with the Congressional Record. Wow! This is dull department for real. What a bet they're missing by not putting it to music. Can you imagine the sale of long winds on a long playing record. And there's your title:
"The Congressional Long Playing Record." You wouldn't need much room to store it either. I'd say if you have a twenty-room apartment with a two-story warehouse adjacent, you wouldn't have any trouble. And you gotta be silly not to have a twenty-room apartment with a two-story warehouse.

As I give this article real thought I begin to realize that Hollywood names shouldn't go to Washington. There'd be too much travel involved. The solution? Move the capital to Hollywood. Rip down all the palm trees and replace them with Japanese cherry blossoms.

I've been reading the trade papers about all the movies that will be made out here during the next 12 months and it runs into mighty big dough. Never in movie history have they scheduled so many multi-million-dollar pictures. And you know about the salaries they pay for stories, writers, costumes, etc. The secretary of the Treasury would be right at home in movieland. If anything went wrong with a treaty, the front office would call in its best writers and change the script in half an hour. Maybe sooner. You know how important the happy ending is in movie-making.

One of the big troubles in politics is that one dealing with personality, diction, appearance. This could all be solved in short order by general casting. We need senators who look like senators, who can put their issues over like Edward Arnold and Lionel Barrymore. More attention should be paid to box-office value. If a solon is a saloon type and only makes with the booze, out he goes. Cancel his contract before option time.
There's no room in the Senate for a Mack Sennett comedy type. If he doesn't click but clucks, book him in the sticks, give him the "B" picture treatment, and relegate him into a double feature with a sheriff in Seven Rocks, Montana.

THEME SONGS FOR DIPLOMATS
There are not enough theme songs in politics. I think that whenever a diplomat is sent on an important mission there should be a theme song. Man, sometimes there isn't even a theme.

We need more makeup men.
Boy, we sure get into enough messes and there are too many heart-aches before we make up with the other side.

Of course, there's been some advertising by guys in politics but they miss the bus. Gus, Y'know what's missin'? Dames! There is nothing like a dame, when y'want fame!

And now we come to one of the most important items. In Hollywood, after all is said and done and spent, the entire future lies in a title. Not the titles we must deal with in Europe but the title for a finished product. This is what will interest the final judge —Mr. and Mrs. average citizen.

You just can't call a thing by a number and expect the public to be interested in H. R. No. 52564. Give it a title with glamor and you have half the sale. If the bill deals with a new highway, call it something like "The Road To The South" and with a Bing and Bob type set of congressmen you can get everything with a song. If the arrangement is right and the melody is mellow, solid like jello, but not as shaky, then you have a hunk of harmony that this old world of ours can use.

But the big issue at the traveling White House this morning was how much corn meal should go into the batter for flapjacks which the President was cooking shortly after dawn broke over the arid peaks of the Rocky mountains.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

Carpentier Proud of Personal Note from President Eisenhower

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—Secretary Carpentier is the proud possessor of a personal note from the White House, signed "Sincerely, Dwight D. Eisenhower." It was written in appreciation of a replica of the bust of Abraham Lincoln which Carpentier presented to the President at the Executive Mansion when Ike and his staff, all state officers and state candidates and their wives and families were luncheon guests of Governor and Mrs. Stratton on State Fair Republican Day August 19.

"This note will bring you again my warm thanks for your courtesy in giving to me yesterday a replica of the bust of Lincoln. I am delighted to have it. It was a pleasure and an honor to be with you again for a short while. I thoroughly enjoyed my visit to Illinois. Mr. Stephens will see that the pictures are inscribed and sent back to you within a few days; perhaps I shall have an opportunity to do it on the plane to Denver."

The "Stephens" referred to is Thomas Stephens, a White House secretarial aide. The pictures are those which were taken at Rock Island-Moline of Eisenhower and Carpentier when Ike was campaigning for president in the autumn of 1952. In the picture with the President and Carpentier, then a candidate for secretary of state, were Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Carpentier, Caryl Carpentier, the secretary's daughter; Don Carpentier, the secretary's son, and his wife.

Increased unemployment compensation is becoming a stronger likelihood. Governor Stratton who has shown a favorable attitude toward boosting the present $25 weekly payment to unemployed told a labor delegation from Saline county that he didn't see any reason why the next legislature shouldn't boost it to $30 or $35.

The delegation, headed by H. G. Pack, Eldorado, secretary of the association, and including State Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, asked Stratton to bring federal government works projects to Saline county to absorb unemployment. Stratton told the delegation he would contact federal agencies in Washington to see if any projects could be assigned the area.

The maneuvering whereby former State Rep. James J. Adduci, Chicago, has been nominated for certain return to the Illinois House are causing rumblings in the capital city. Stratton sees the move as "another good argument for senatorial reapportionment" but plans no retaliation against state employees who live in the district.

Meanwhile Secretary of State Charles E. Carpentier has fired James Bernardi, one of the senatorial nominating committee which voted to replace James Yacullo who resigned, with Adduci. Carpentier dismissed Bernardi, he said, "for political action which might reflect on the office and morale." Bernardi had been a clerk in the secretary of state's office for 13 years.

The district involved is the 2nd and one of the smallest in the state. Its legislative representatives are referred to as belonging to the so-called "west side bloc." If reapportionment carries in the Nov. 2 election the district most likely would be merged with surrounding areas. The 2nd is an agreed district whereby nomination is equivalent to election.

Rejection of bids on state highway projects which were later awarded for contract on lower offers, has saved the state $269,447, according to the State Highways Division. The division said the savings were involved in the rejection of bids on 31 projects. The higher bids totaled $4,731,797. The projects were finally let for $4,462,350.

Adlai E. Stevenson doesn't appear enthusiastic about a suggestion that he seek another term as governor. He doesn't regard it as within the realm of probability that he would be a gubernatorial candidate and said "no comment" when asked if this meant that he might be available. A Chicago report was that State Chairman James A. Ronan and others had plans to persuade Stevenson but Ronan denied it.

Dorrisville School Enrollment Up 97

Brose Phillips, principal of the Dorrisville grade school, stated today that school opened with an enrollment of 314. This is an increase of 97 students over last year's enrollment which was 217 on the first day of school. This hike in enrollment is due largely to the new housing project located in Dorrisville.

XXIV

Several days before election, Packard appeared before the town council of which he was still a member and demanded that there be at least one voting place north of the K & W tracks, in the "civilized" part of town.

The councilmen looked toward Jacob Fugger who made a negative gesture with his head. The council voted five to one against Packard. The voting was to be held in the only public building in Sage City, the courthouse, which also contained the marshal's office and the jail.

Packard then demanded that the saloons be closed while the voting was in process. He was outvoted again, five to one. He made one last request, that his faction be allowed three representatives at the polls. Fugger thought this over for a moment, then agreed. He did not see how he could do otherwise as the voting had to be public and too many people would take notice of the fact if his adherents only were allowed to watch the ballot box.

The same day, Hong Kong Smith's fourth trail herd of the season reached Sage City. It was also his largest, with no less than 30 of his Texas gun fighters accompanying the herd. The cowboys who had brought up his third herd were still in town. They had just about squandered their salaries, but there was a whisper of liquor on Election Day and they intended to take full advantage.

Hong Kong Smith rode out to his newly arrived herd, three miles from Sage City.

The cowboys whooped and surrounded him. "I'm sorry, boys," Smith announced. "I didn't expect you until tomorrow and the bank's closed for the day. But come in bright and early tomorrow and you'll have your money and free drinks the rest of the day!"

A roar went up and guns banged.

Smith mounted his horse and prepared to ride back to Sage City. As he cleared the camp, he discovered that a cowboy was riding after him.

"Mr. Smith," the man called. "I'm Dave Helm."

Smith pulled up his horse. "You got my message?"

"I wouldn't have left Texas if I hadn't," replied Helm. He was a lean, rather handsome man in his mid-thirties, a man who minded his own business as a rule and who was let alone by the wild Texas cowboys.

Smith nodded. "They don't know much about you in Sage City."

"You've got a sheriff here?"

"Not yet. They're voting tomorrow. There's a marshal, man named Gorey."

"I've heard of him."

"You're not afraid of him?"

"Of his gun, no. Of his badge, yes."

"Gorey takes his orders from Jacob Fugger who owns Sage City."

Helm did not comment on this. "And Jacob Fugger does what I tell him to do," Hong Kong Smith went on, with a note of importance in his voice. "You haven't got a thing to worry about, Helm. Not a single thing."

Smith slapped Helm on the back. "I'm taking your word for it, but I've been a long time. That's because I've always been careful." His eyes narrowed thoughtfully. "This election tomorrow... any chance of it going against Jacob Fugger?"

Hong Kong Smith chuckled. He closed one eye in a huge wink. At 7 a. m. Marshal Chuck Gorey hung up a sign outside the marshal's office. On the sign was scrawled, "Vote Here." Gil Packard, Luke Miller and Lee Kinnard came across the street.

"Gonna vote bright and early," Gorey remarked.

"That's right," said Miller calmly.

They followed the marshal into his office. A wooden box stood on Gorey's desk. Beside it was a stack of ballots. "Help yourself," said Gorey, indicating the box and the ballots.

Packard shook his head. "We'll wait until the polls are officially open."

"They're open now."

"Fugger was to have three men here," said Packard.

"Seems to me I did hear something about that," Gorey said. "I guess they'll be along. But if you want to vote, go ahead, nobody's stopping you."

"We'll wait," said Luke Miller. "If we expect to have others vote properly, we'll do so too."

Gorey's eyes narrowed. "You three going to sit here all day?"

"The city council voted to have three representatives of each slate of candidates preside over the voting."

"And you fellows picked yourselves as the representatives?"

"Anything wrong with that?" Miller asked.

Gorey shrugged and left the mar-

Recommend Odum Be Held for Grand Jury

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A Williamson county coroner's jury ruled Tuesday that Fred Odum, 40, Marion, caused the death of Lorin L. Norman, 25, Marion, and recommended that Odum be held for grand jury action.

The jury verdict said Odum struck Norman on the head with a piece of firewood at an American Legion picnic Sunday, causing a skull fracture. Odum, who fled the scene and went to Chicago Sunday, returned voluntarily Monday night and surrendered to authorities at Carbondale.

NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The million-dollar mitts of Clark Gable, Cary Grant and Gregory Peck, according to a Hollywood manicurist, are just loaded with electricity.

I'm taking Rose Schall's guarantee for this unreported piece of fiddle-faddle and passing it on in a big hurry. Who knows?

The snap, crackle and pop in the hands of movie heroes may be just the thing to stop TV dead in its tracks.

Rose Schall is the official Little Miss Buff-It over at the 20th Century-Fox studio. Maybe it's because she wasn't hired by one casting office, but Rose looks more like a schoolteacher than a barber-shop Hedy.

It wasn't easy for Rose, who's unmarried and makes a point of never listening to traveling salesman jokes, to talk about the tingle that she gets from holding hands with her burning-eyed movie customers.

"What it's like is an electric current," she explained blushing. "On the tips of their fingers it buzzes. You might say it's thrilling."

ROSE GOT HER FIRST spark when she worked on Clark Gable's digits during the making of "Gone With the Wind" and she's been receiving voltage ever since from the dream boys of Hollywood.

"I'm sorry, I just don't get any electricity from the girls," Rose apologized. "Just some men, you understand. Like Gregory Peck. I gave him his first manicure years ago and I had the pleasure of working on him just a little while back."

"Cary Grant got his first manicure from me, too. Also Cornel Wilde, who was very stubborn about it. All of them have powerful electricity."

Irving Berlin, she remembered, kept playing imaginary tunes on her table with his fingers while she snipped his cuticle and "I had to hang onto his hand like crazy."

George Jessel and Charles Coburn are down in Rose's book as snoozers who drop off to sleep at the sound of a grating file.

"THAT CHARLES COBURN," Rose laughed. "He snores all thru a manicure. You can hear him all the way to the administration building a block away."

Vic Mature was a riot around the barbershop and Rose didn't mind saying so. Once he'd stuck a plastic hand up his sleeve and handed it to her, Rose laughed, and another time he left her a dollar tip in pennies.

"One hundred pennies piled up on the table," she sighed. "He's a perfect scream."

Stars spill secrets to her, but she'd sooner bite her tongue off than do a playback, she insisted.

She knew that Bette Davis had fallen for Gary Merrill during the making of "All About Eve" long before anybody else on the lot.

"Bette didn't have to talk," Rose said. "She always keeps records going in her dressing room. Before she met Gary she would play 'There Must Be Something Better Than Love.' Over and over. Then all of a sudden she started putting on something about crash-bam, al-lacazam, out of an orange-colored sky."

Set Up for VTI
Students at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. — An intensified extra-curricular program awaits students enrolling in the Southern Illinois University Vocational-Technical Institute at Southern Acres near Carverville this fall, says W. L. Randle, VTI student counselor.

The Institute campus is located in the administrative area of the former Illinois Ordnance Plant 11 miles east of the SIU campus in Carbondale. Housing facilities include space for 105 single men in a dormitory building. Housing for women is in Carbondale. Married students with families live in university-operated apartments at Southern Acres.

The VTI also has at Southern Acres a well-equipped branch of the SIU Health Service with a registered nurse on duty to look after the health needs of VTI students. Mrs. Katherine Christensen, Murphysboro, took charge of the VTI health center in June.

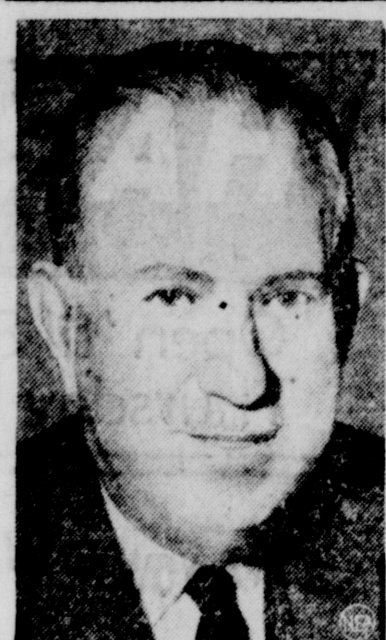

A newly-opened VTI student center provides indoor lounging and recreational facilities for the growing student body. Randle says that, in response to a student interest questionnaire, recreational programs will include intramural tournaments in volleyball, softball, horseshoes, basketball, swimming, ping pong, billiards, checkers, and bridge.

The VTI student council also will sponsor at least one party or picnic each term. Additional recreational programs are carried on by the student housing units.

FHA Crackdown Brings Indictments Of 136 Since 1953

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department announced today that its crackdown on criminal offenses in Federal Housing Administration cases has resulted in the indictment of 136 persons this year and in 1953.

The department said most of the cases involved false loan documents in the FHA's home loan improvement program. Others include corruption of government officials, mail fraud and violation of banking laws.

Most of the criminal offenses occurred before 1953, the department said, and 67 of the persons indicted have been convicted.

Retain Closure Area Around Horseshoe Lake

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Last year's closure area around the Horseshoe Lake Wildlife Refuge in Alexander county has been retained under a proclamation just issued by Governor William G. Stratton.

A proclamation identical to that issued by Governor Stratton has been issued by the Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior in Washington, D. C.

The proclamation, which rescinds the one of last year, re-establishes the boundary lines which close about 9,000 acres to the taking of Canada geese.

Under this year's proclamation other game species may be taken within the federally established boundary line. This is a departure from last season's regulation when all hunting was prohibited within the closed zone.

Shooting hours for waterfowl in Alexander county this season will be 7 a. m. to 3 p. m. This will give the geese congregating there an opportunity to feed out from the refuge unmolested during the morning and evening.

Shooting hours on waterfowl elsewhere in Illinois will be from one-half hour before sunrise until one hour before sunset. Dates of the 55 day season will be Oct. 22 thru Dec. 15.

Bag limits this season will be the same as those of last year except that no wood ducks may be taken.
Bag limits on ducks will be four per day and eight in possession.
Daily bag and possession limits on ducks may include one hooded merganser. Red-breasted and American mergansers when taken are to be included in the daily bag or possession limits.

Bag limits on geese will be five, including in such a limit not more than two Canada geese or its subspecies, or two white-fronted geese, or one Canada or its subspecies or one white-fronted goose. Possession limit will be the same as the daily limit.

College Grid Season to Open Today

By United Press
You can prove it by the baseball bugs, but the 1954 college football season officially opens today.

By edict of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, no team may start fall practice before Sept.
1—so today just about all the big-name campus squads swing into action for the first time, led by Maryland's rebuilding national champions and Michigan State's still-strong Rose Bowl champs.

They don't have much time to get ready, for the first big Saturday program of games is due on Sept. 18—less than three weeks away.

At College Park, Md., Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland breathed optimism, although he has lost seven starters—including the whole backfield—from the Terrapin team that was voted No. 1 in the nation last fall.

Michigan State is starting the season under a new coach, Duffy Daugherty, and is pressed for time to get ready for an opening game that could be its most important test of the season—on Sept. 25 against Iowa, a team that might be considered the pre-season Big Ten title choice. Daugherty has a squad of 70, including 20 lettermen, and his big name star is scat-back Leroy Bolden.

Notre Dame, whose fans heatedly disputed Maryland's No. 1 ranking last season, opens under its 26-year-old new coach, Terry Brennan.

Kiwanians to Aid At Special Show For Ball Program have been asked to volunteer their services in selling and taking up tickets at the Harrisburg Drive in theatre Wednesday and Thursday nights when the club is sponsoring its annual film for the benefit of the summer baseball program for boys.

The club is urging the public to help support the summer baseball program which benefits more than 300 boys each year by its patronage at the Harrisburg Drive in either Wednesday or Thursday night. A double feature program has been provided by the club one of which will be especially interesting to the boys who like baseball and to the fans who also enjoy the game. The film, "Pride of St.

In a recent American Association baseball game John Romonosky pitched 5 2-3 innings of relief hit-ing in a losing cause, giving up 5 strikes. At the bat John had a good night, cracking out two hits in as many tries, including a triple, scored twice and was credited with one RBI. He was due to hit in the ninth, but a pinch hitter was sent up and struck out.

More than half of the 66 candidates for the University of Illinois football squad are sophomores. A break down shows 34 sophs, 20 juniors and the rest are seniors.
Two of the sophomores are but 18 years of age and 27 of them are 19.

J. C. Caroline, Illinois' All-American halfback, needs to gain just 90 more yards to have carried the ball a mile for the Illini. Last season as a sophomore Caroline had a total offense record of 1,670 yards, gaining 1,256 by rushing, 52 yards on pass receptions, 233 yards on kick off returns and 129 on punt returns.

One of the largest football squads, numerically speaking, in the history of the Carmi high school reported for the opening practice Monday morning. A total of 71 grid candidates reported to head coach Don Shroyer and assistants McDougal and Brown.

The price of football at Herrin high school has gone up, according to a recent announcement. Herrin has advanced adult prices from 60 cents to 75 cents, which will put them on a par with most other schools in the area.

Indians Win with Wynn to Take First Crucial Game From Yanks; 2 More Tilts

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

It is "do or die" for the Yankees now and even their most faithful followers think it might be wise to have the coroner stand by.

To borrow Charley Dressen's famous phrase about last year's Giants and alter it a little to fit the occasion—"The Yankees is almost dead."

Burly Early Wynn hammered another spike into the coffin Tuesday night when he pitched a superlative two-hit 6-1 triumph for the Indians that boosted their lead to 5 1-2 games before 58,859 fans at Yankee Stadium.

That means now if Cleveland wins only 11 of its remaining 23 games, the Yankees will have to win 18 out of their remaining 24 to finish on top. So Cleveland could coast along playing under 500 baseball and the Yankees would have to win two out of every three to grab that sixth world championship which now seems all but out of reach.

Lopez Cautious

Manager Al Lopez of the Indians looked as if he wanted to say that they would win it now, but he tempered his jubilation with the usual caution and admitted only that "This is the best position Cleveland has been in yet."

"Obviously, this was our biggest victory," he concluded.

Catcher Yogi Berra was one of the few Yankees talking about it and he said flatly—"We have to win the next two—or else."

Wynn pitched no-hit ball for 6 2-3 innings before Irv Noren hit a home run for the only Yankee tally and Enos Slaughter hit a pinch-single for the only other hit. Cleveland cracked through rookie Bob Grim's tight pitching armor for two runs in the fourth on Al Rosen's double, singles by Vic Wertz and Dave Pope and Sam Dente's scoring fly. After the Noren homer Cleveland retaliated with four more runs in the eighth, three on a homer by Dave Philley.

Giants Go 3 1-2 Ahead

The Giants took a 3 1-2 game lead in the National with a 5-3 victory over the Cardinals after Brooklyn lost to Milwaukee, 2-0, on a three-hitter by Gene Conley. The Phils topped Cincinnati 9-3 and the Cubs won, 14-2 and 7-3, from Pittsburgh in also ran" games. Elsewhere in the American league, Philadelphia won 8-6 and 6-3 decisions from Baltimore and Washington whipped Detroit, 5-3. Chicago at Boston was rained out.

Windy McCall pitched one-hit relief ball for five innings in the Giants triumph in which Dusty Rhodes and Willie Mays each drove in two runs. They broke a 3-3 tie with two runs in the fifth when Al Dick singled, Hank Thompson walked, Rhodes singled in one run and Mays drove in another with a fly ball.

Conley cooled the Brooks by shutting them out for the second time this season and achieving his 14th victory. Del Crandall hit a home run for Milwaukee and Bobby Thomson singled in the other run after Bill Bruton walked in the first inning and stole second.

Sauer's Homer Sets

Record; Is 13th of Year Against Pirates

CHICAGO — Hank Sauer has established a new National League homer record at the expense of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Sauer's two-run homer in the Cubs' 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh in the second game of Tuesday's doubleheader was his 13th of the season against the Pirates. That eclipsed the old league record of 12 homers in one season against a single team, set by Ralph Kiner of the Pirates against Brooklyn in 1950, and equaled the major league mark of 13 set by Jimmy Fox of the Philadelphia Athletics against Detroit in 1932.

Snider Going All-Out To Win National League Batting Title

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Duke
Snider, hard-hitting center fielder for the Brooklyn Dodgers, said today he was going "all out" to win the National League batting title but would continue to hit for the fences.

"That's the way I hit best," said Snider, who got three home runs in the first three games of the current Dodgers-Braves series.
"There's no use trying to just get singles. I might quit hitting altogether if I tried that."

Snider, who has been a bridesmaid but never a bride in the hitting derby, said he wanted to win the title as much as anything he ever desired in baseball, except,gers.

Going into Tuesday night's game, he led Stan Musial of the Cardinals .349 to .344.

Musial had one more hit in 10 additional at bats in three more games.

"It would be a great honor to beat Musial in the hitting race," Snider said, "although it's no disgrace to finish second to him; he's a great ball player."

Kid Gavilan III, No Fight Tonight

PHILADELPHIA — There'll be no television fight tonight.

Cuban Kid Gavilan will defend his welterweight crown against New Yorker Johnny Saxton at Convention Hall, Oct. 20, instead of tonight at Connie Mack Stadium.

Gavilan's illness caused the second postponement of their fight, and today's first cancellation of a nationally televised show in TV fight history.

Three physicians attested that the 28-year old champion was suffering from a virus infection, a fever, and a gland swelling near his left ear.

Announcing the Oct. 20 date, co-promoter Herman Taylor said he would start making refunds on Monday for nearly $30,000 worth of tickets sold for tonight's cancelled outdoor show.

The Gavilan-Saxton bout was originally scheduled for the stadium on July 14 but the Cuban "Kee" asked for the first postponement because of an injured right hand that had not responded to treatment.
